CONSULTANTS

SUNY Leadership Institute consultants are available to assist the college in addressing priority concerns related to the development of its leadership cadre by delivering workshops onsite at your campus or system.

LEE RIDDELL

As director of the SUNY Leadership Institute, Lee Riddell focuses on leadership training, sustainability development, strategic planning and program design. She has earned certificates in 360 degree feedback assessment, the Myers Briggs Indicator, Strengths Quest in Higher Education, and Sustainability Leadership. Lee is an in-demand solo presenter and organizer of panel presentations on leadership development, sustainability leadership, women's leadership issues, mentoring and other topics.

MARYANN STARK

Organizational development strategist MaryAnn Stark is the creator and facilitator of training programs and leadership development, strategic planning, teambuilding, and organizational change. She brings to her role more than 25 years of professional experience in higher education, business operations, and nonprofit management, including service as president and CEO of a national human resources agency that was the recipient of national awards for excellence.

CLINT SIDLE

Clinton Sidle directs the prestigious Roy H. Park Leadership Fellows Program in the Johnson Graduate School of Management at Cornell University, and is a leading consultant in leadership development, managing strategic change, and executive coaching. He has worked with Fortune 500 companies, state and local educational systems, and some of the nation's premier universities and non-profit organizations. His leadership programs at Cornell and elsewhere have earned broad recognition for developing leaders who succeed while also making a positive contribution to the world.

CHET WARZYNSKI

Chet Warzynski is executive director of the Office of Organizational Development at the Georgia Institute of Technology. His department provides professional development and consulting services in leadership development, strategic planning, organization design and process improvement. He has published articles in professional and academic journals and book chapters on leadership, strategic planning, business process reengineering, project management, and human resource development.

MICHAEL PASTORE

Michael Pastore facilitates teams working together to overcome challenges they face every day. His interest in group dynamics and leadership led to a diverse educational background in psychology, student development, and management focusing on motivation, group and individual potential, and positive psychology. As registrar at Cayuga Community College, Michael manages the college greenhouse and is co-manager of the SUNY Wellness Challenge.
